The project

So far we have helped at the community food bank and with the environmental club!

How to organize a community service project

1

Collaborate

Work with your group to see what they would like to do to help

2

Communicate

Talk to the group or organization you would like to support

3

Plan

Plan group work days and confirm days with organization

About the project

Alexis Montoya and Mrs. Nichols(advisor) put together a google form that we sent out in our High School newsletter that is sent out to everyone in San Benito County

This google form included questions like:

- What areas of service do you think needs most support
- Is there any specific organization that needs more support

Here's the link to check it out:

How does this help

Getting a different perspective on what needs to be done to better support our community is really a benefit to everyone. Sometimes a lot of these great organizations just need more people to get started. It also brings awareness to issues that you maybe didn't notice before, then prompts collaboration to find solutions to those issues.

What are we working on?

Fundraising

Currently we as a club are working on how to put together profitable fundraising to take our club members on college tours. Not every student has the money or transportation to visit these college campuses. So we will plan to our best to give all our members a chance to tour these beautiful campuses.

Peer Tutoring

As CSF members, all our members excel in academics. And with this gift of knowledge, we are working with Club Ed to help tutor students who are struggling academically. Academics are such a important factor in our students lives and we are making sure everyone gets the help they need to give back to our community.

Why community relationships are important

Volunteers gain experience

Through volunteering you can challenge yourself to try something different, achieve personal goals, practice using your skills and discover hidden talents.

We give back

At San Benito High School, our community does so much for students. It is only fair that we use our gifts or knowledge and time to help others who aren't as gifted.

"The way to change the world is through individual responsibility and taking local action in your own community." – Jeff Bridges
